

SPECIFIC COMPETENCES:

- To apply in an innovative way, in the design of policies and strategies and programme management, recommendations based on humanitarian based on humanitarian principles and values and in accordance with personal codes of conduct.
- Identify and apply the legal sources to the humanitarian realities analysed, considering analysed, considering the complexities of political and institutional complexities.
- Assess the risks to personal security in humanitarian work, seeking the best, most appropriate response in emergency contexts and in complex and insecure contexts, using appropriate techniques and strategies in accordance with humanitarian principles and standards, to reduce the impact of external stressors, in terms of personal implications, avoiding causing harm.
- Stimulate the participation and personal and professional development of team members and/or partners by taking initiatives, assessing initiatives, assessing possible effects and risks, and making strategic decisions to achieve a successful humanitarian project.
- To act in a specialised manner, considering the experience acquired in the search for solutions. Experience gained in the search for relevant, evidence-based solutions by combining interdisciplinary knowledge and understanding of the full range of needs and capacities of people affected by crises in a given regional context.